

Visitors admire the three-dimensional relief model of Jerusalem before its destruction in AD 70. — On either side of the map Busts of Emperors Augustus and Tiberius, replicas from the Deutsches Museum, Berlin.

The memorial plaque of the Centurion Felix, of the Tenth Roman Legion, and the cast of an anti-Christian graffiti from the Palatine Hill witness to the cruelty and ignorance of the early Romans. The fish and anchor engravings and the bronze oil lamp from the Catacomb of Domitilla witness to the faithfulness of the early Judeo-Christians.

Centurion Felix of the X Roman Legion

Christian Oil Lamp
Catacomb of Domitilla

< Ivory carving of the Armenian Forty Martyrs in 320 AD shows the force of the Roman persecution.

Christian secret symbols of fish & anchor in the Catacomb of Domitilla in Rome. >

